

Quiz Questions for Non-Pharmacological Interventions for Resource Providers

Research supports the use of psychotropic medications as a stand-alone intervention.

True

False

Once an intervention is deemed evidence-based it can be used with any population to treat a variety of symptoms.

True

False

Any therapeutic interventions for infants and toddlers should actively include the caregiver.

True

False

Children's Division policy states every child prescribed a psychotropic medication shall receive concurrent non-pharmacological treatment at the frequency and duration recommended by the prescriber.

True

False

Non-pharmacological treatments can be discussed with the child's prescriber at the child's appointment.

True

False